Abstract: We first give some background about time series with long range dependence, or long memory. We then discuss extensions to the more general case of spatial data.